CORBETT TO BOX MITCHELL.

The Pair Will Spar for "The World's" Free Bread Fund.

A Treat Promised in Madison Square Garden on Feb. 24.

Madison Square Garden has been the scene of many interesting displays of listic prowess, but none as much so as the exhibition which will take place there the evening of Feb. 24. On that evening James J. Corbett and Charles Mitchell, victor and vanguished, will see for the make satisfactory arrangements. James J. Corbett and Unaries mitchen, victor and vanquished, will spar for the benefit of "The World's" Free Bread Fund. New Yorkers will be afforded an opportunity which the residents of no of seeing the cleverest man in the world, and the best boxer England ever turned out, put up their hands, surrounded by the same men who were behind them in Jacksonville—in fact as nearly as possitions.

A Hammond (Ind.) despatch says: "It was given out by good authority last evening that the sole reason for the position less the sole reason for the position men were given jobs as helpers by the position men were given jobs as helpers by the position men were given jobs as helpers by the position of the Ropy cases until the sture of seeing the cleverest man in the world, and the best boxer England ever turned surpose of the surpose of the battle between Corbett and out, put up their hands, surrounded by the rest of the Lake County officials, will do all they can to prevent the mill from being held on Indiana soil.

in addition to being a rare treat to admirers of scientific boxing, it will afford an excellent opportunity for everybody to do something for the thousands of New York's hungry and destitute ones, and those who have visited "The World's" distributing bureau at 210 East Houston street, and seen day after day the long lines of pale thin faces and scantily clad bodies, know how badly the charity is needed. Corbett and Mitchell will suar four rounds. "Honest George Slosson left at 10 o'clock this morning for Boston, where he plays Schaefer to-night in the opening game of the three-cornered billiard tourney. The student expects to get Jake's signature to an agreement to play in a week's tourney in this city at the anchor barred game—a game which has never been seen in New York. Slosson was feeling far from confident when he left. "I don't take much interest in these tournaments away from home," he said. "My mind is always on my business here, and I am not able to give the attention to the game it requires. With Schaefer and I ves it is different. They play billiards cill the time, while I have but little chance for doing so. I do not think my game has gone back any, and am confident that I could play just as well as Schoefer or Ives if, like them. I had no that I could play just as well as er or Ives if, like them, I had no

Schoefer or Ives if, like them, I had no other cares.

"For instance, yesterday I retipped a lot of my cues. That tires my arm and gets me off my stroke. Besides I have played but one practise game since I returned from Cincinnati. You ask whether I think Schaefer or Ives is the better player. Give either a little luck and the break of the balls and he will win. Luck is 25 per cent. In billiards, At ball to ball play, I mean fidling ground the balls, keeping them close together and at the balk-line nurse, lves is superior. Jake can beat him at masses shots, cushion caroms and open table play for position. I think I can play open table, shots asgood as or better than either of them."

lit took Jimmy Barry, the Chicago bantam, leas than a minuto to put Joe McGrath, the Irish boxer, all but out at the Empire Theatre, Chicago, last night. The go was to have been a friendly one but the boys got to roughing it after the first few punches. Barry showed far cleverer than Plimmer's partner, and with a sudden "one-two"—a straight left and a short right hook on the Jaw—he knocked McGrath down and nearly out. As it was, the little Irishman was just able to regain his feet only to be knocked down twice more. Time was called at the end of a minute, with McGrath so groggy that he could hardly walk. The bout would be stopped, and the second round was tame. The third round also opened tamely, but Barry soon got warm and again went at his man, with the result that McGrath was obliged to clinch to save himself. At the end the Irish champion was again looking foolish, and almost fell down when he was assisted to his corner.

tional Baseball League completed its sittings at Cincinnati last night. The rules, as a whole, are not materially changed, but the Committee has touched on a few points concerning which there has been considerable discussion. The Committee first defines a bunt hit. It mext provides that if a ball fails foul while the battsman is trying to advance a rainuer by a bunt sacrifice, a strike shall be called. Amendment is also supervividing that a strike shall be called for the battsman strikes at a bull which touches him. Notice coaching is also touched upon, and the umpire is given additional power to remove players in octain cases. A fly to the outfield is not to be counted a sacrifice.
